Evidence of the swamping of British society by Afro-Asian immigration is generally suppressed by the news media. However, the shocking truth sometimes slips through in the sports pages of local papers. These are pictures of the athletics teams of a school in the West Midlands. By the fourth form the British have become extinct!

The "British Jew" wowed his audience of "British Asians" by declaring:

"I am unshakeably opposed to discrimination on any grounds . . . racial discrimination and racial disadvantage are a daily reality for far too many black and brown people in this country."

Coming from a leading member of the Jewish community, which from the dawn of time has made racial discrimination ("sticking together") a fundamental obligation among all its members, Brittan's speech was impudent humbug.

SHRILL MINORITIES

The plain fact is that the most rampant racism at large in Britain today is that perpetrated by shrill and highly-organised minority ethnic groups against the indigenous White people of these islands.

In issue after issue of NF News we have chronicled countless instances of "minority racism" – i.e. actions perpetrated by minority ethnic groups and their White renegade 'Community Relations' backers which render the British people second-class citizens in their own country.

BRENT SHOCKER

But perhaps the most shocking example to date is contained in a report compiled by the personnel services department of Brent Borough Council in North London.

The report, dated 4th July 1983, is headed "Ethnic Minorities – Recruitment Practices" and is divided into two parts: proposals for immediate implementation and proposals requiring "further investigation".

Among the proposals for immediate implementation are:

“3.2 Require 10% of the 1983/4 recruitment advertising budget of each Service to be brought to the centre and used for advertising specifically directed towards minority ethnic people.

3.3 In appropriate cases use specific advertisements aimed at ethnic minorities and on occasion advertise only in the ethnic minority press . . . be prepared to readvertise when anticipated ethnic minority response is not forthcoming.

3.6 Establish a central register of possible ethnic minority applicants drawn from unsuccessful candidates to other vacancies.”

Among the proposals for "further investigation" are:

“4.2 Investigate use of alternative forms of advertising, e.g. . . . through GLC ethnic minorities unit mail-shot advertising.

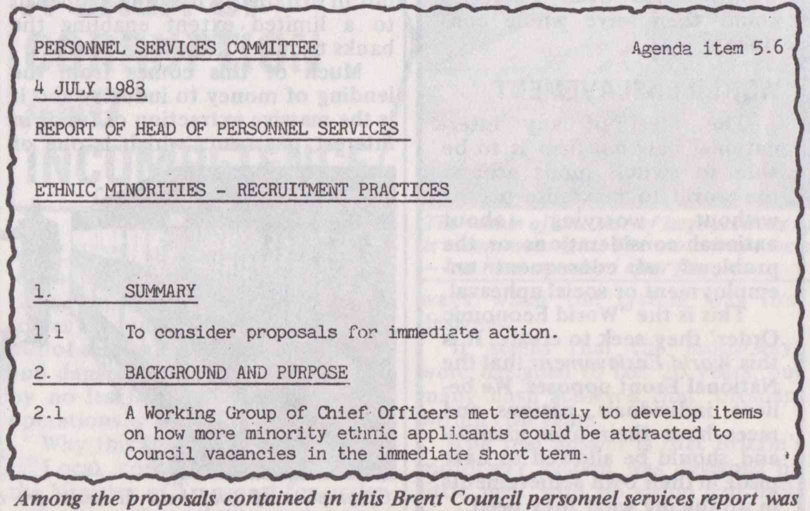
4.3 Examine the possibility of rewarding 'head hunting' of successful ethnic minority candidates by ethnic minority organisations and other groups and encourage 'old pals act' between existing ethnic minority employees and prospective candidates.

4.4 Set targets for ethnic minority recruitment for each Service – to be seen as short-term aims.”

"HIRE BLACKS VIA 'OLD PALS ACT'"



PERSONNEL SERVICES COMMITTEE — Agenda item 5.6

4 JULY 1983

REPORT OF HEAD OF PERSONNEL SERVICES

ETHNIC MINORITIES - RECRUITMENT PRACTICES

1. SUMMARY

1.1 To consider proposals for immediate action.

2. BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

2.1 A Working Group of Chief Officers met recently to develop items on how more minority ethnic applicants could be attracted to Council vacancies in the immediate short term.

Among the proposals contained in this Brent Council personnel services report was a suggestion that the Council encourage an 'old pals act' between its Black employees and their Black friends. So much for the Race Relations Act!

What proposals 3.2/3/6 and 4.2/4 boil down to is this:

RESERVED FOR BLACKS

- An increasing number of Brent Council jobs will be reserved for Blacks and Asians.
- Such jobs will only be advertised in publications seen by Blacks and Asians.
- If such advertisements do not at first attract Black or Asian applicants the jobs must be readvertised in the same publications until the posts are filled by Blacks or Asians, regardless of the potential availability of qualified Whites.

Perhaps the most outrageous (and, under the terms of the Race Relations Act, probably unlawful) proposal is number 4.3.

This advocates the establishment of a conspiratorial network in which jobs will not even be advertised in the "minority ethnic" press, but only by word-of-mouth among Black and Asian organisations and individuals.

PROHIBITED?

This is the very form of recruitment (among Whites!) that we are told the Race Relations Act was designed to prohibit. Firms which have practised this form of recruitment to maintain an all-White workforce have been prosecuted.

Pro-Immigrant, anti-White recruitment is not new. Some months ago we reported that Hackney Borough Council was refusing to give job application forms to White youngsters.

RACE ACT DODGED

Complaints to the Commission for Racial Equality were rejected on the basis that the jobs advertised had been designated "youth training jobs" and, as such, were not covered by the Race Relations Act!

As most "proper jobs" require work experience, those who do not get youth training scheme places will be passed over in favour of those who have.

Councils like Brent and Hackney spend vast sums advertising their job vacancies in a wide range of obscure Asian, West Indian and Jewish newspapers.

This is not only done to give Immigrants a head start over Whites in the hunt for jobs, but also as a means of filtering ratepayers' money into the coffers of "minority ethnic" organisations.

"STUPID BRITISH"

Recently one of Hackney Council's few White Gentile members, Cllr. Jeff Roberts, revealed that the Council has been happily paying an Asian paper Des Pardes £400 a page for advertising space when Asian businessmen can buy the same space for £60!

In multi-racial Britain the White British people are paying for the privilege of being robbed of their birthright! How long are "the stupid British" going to put up with it?

MILLSTONES AND A DEEP SEA NEEDED

DURING August the whole nation was sickened by the news that a six year old Brighton boy had been kidnapped by three grown 'men' and subjected to a series of brutal sexual assaults.

How tragic and ironic that such an incident of subhuman wickedness took place just a few weeks after the new Parliament had voted by a big majority not to restore the death penalty! While in this particular instance the little mite did not die, which person with any heart could deny that those who perpetrate such assaults forfeit the right to live?

Some Parliamentarians sought to justify their refusal to restore the death penalty on the basis of "Christian compassion". But the founder of their faith said of those who menace little children: "It were better a millstone were tied around their neck and they be cast into the deepest sea!"

Our opposition to multi-racialism compels us to draw attention to heinous crimes perpetrated against defenceless White people – including elderly women and babies – by Black monsters (who would not be in Britain were it not for the folly of Parliamentarians who uphold the multi-racial society). But this does not blind us to the fact that our own race also produces monsters.

Both kinds belong on the same gallows – or at the bottom of the same deep sea.

NF News seeks to persuade its readers to feel angry about the evils of multi-racialism and to direct their anger solely at the corrupt politicians who created a racial problem in Britain, and not to the Immigrant people in general. "Racialism" is NOT unlawful – only "racial hatred".

However this is apparently of little consequence to Cecil Parkinson and the rest of the Tory Government. What are of far greater influence are the needs and aspirations of the giant multinational companies and finance houses.

The legal action against the Stock Exchange has now been dropped and the reforms to which successive governments have been nominally committed have now been handed over to the 47 man Stock Exchange Council — headed by Sir Nicholas Goodison — which is made up of the very people who benefit from the restrictive practices.

SIR GORDON BORRIE Director-General of the Office of Fair Trading told to drop prosecution

The practice which has received most attention from the press is the fixed scale of commissions charged by Stock Exchange Brokers to individuals, but more usually organisations, who wish to buy or sell shares.

Although the legal action, which was supported by previous Trade Secretary John Nott, has now been dropped the Stock Exchange had already agreed that this fixed scale of charges must be modified or abolished before the legal proceed-tected by low fixed rates of commission on small share dealings and who will now almost certainly be charged more.

One other change which is likely to be agreed by the Stock Exchange Council is to allow "British and foreign" limited liability firms to buy their way into the brokerage business.

However the only such companies who are already involved in the business are foreign and it is these which will inevitably be the main operators in this field.

Of the other 171 practices which were detailed in the Office of Fair Trading report very few are likely to be dealt with.

Global Monopoly

BRITAIN was not so long ago self sufficient in its requirements for manufactured goods. Today the list of goods which we have to import is endless.

This change has not been brought about by any decision of the British people, it has been imposed on us by a global financial system to which our government, along with most others, is totally subservient.

The mandarins of this system are the heads of the world's largest companies — General Motors, Exxon, IBM, etc. — and the heads of the world's largest banking firms — the Rothschilds, the Schiffs, the Morgans and the Rockefellers.

SECRET GATHERINGS

While it is true that they do not all regularly meet in conference to decide policy, many of them do attend small, often secret, gatherings such as the Bilderberg and Trilateral Commission conferences to which only such men of power are invited.

As a result of this type of meeting it is hardly surprising that the corporate policies of the organisations they head frequently parallel each other.

Whether or not these individuals see themselves as leaders of a 'World Government' is conjecture, but it is certainly true that they see themselves as leaders of a World economic order.

To such an end the existence of national boundaries and racial identities are a serious obstacle.

OUR LAST REMAINING ASSETS SOLD OFF

ON MONDAY 25th July Nigel Lawson, Chancellor of the Exchequer, attempted to avoid being questioned on the Government's proposed asset stripping operation of Britain's energy resources by detailing his plans in a written reply to a question in the House of Commons.

Only after loud protests did he make a statement revealing the enormous extent of this racket. It emerged that the Government intends to hold the fourth sale of BP shares in six years reducing its stake in the company to just 32%.

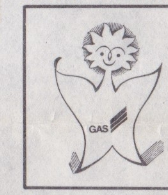
The £500 million proceeds of this latest sale are needed to meet the interest payments on the massive loans incurred by successive governments.

BP, Britain's largest oil company, now stands in very real danger of falling under the complete control and ownership of foreign interests.

But even before this the government has already sold £290 million worth of shares in Britoil, the company that was set up to ensure that the benefits of North Sea oil were retained for the British people.

Yet even this is not enough to satisfy the international financial vampires — the Government has announced that a further £450 million worth of Britain's energy resources must be sold off.

The most likely target for this is British Gas which recently turned in a record profit of £663 million. Rather than retain control of this vital and highly profitable national asset the Government is almost certainly going to sell off at least part of it.



With each of these sales the Government goes to great lengths to give an illusion that these assets are being sold to small British investors.

In reality the vast majority of the shares end up under the control of a small group of City financial institutions thus increasing their already enormous economic power.

INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT DROPS

MARGARET Thatcher's much vaunted 'recovery' came to a grinding halt in June when it emerged that far from an increase in industrial production there was a substantial fall.

The index for industrial production fell 1.7% in this one month while in many ways the more important index of manufacturing output fell 1.1%.

Manufacturing industry is now producing less than 90% of what it did in 1975.

Britain's high street shops are selling more than ever before but as a direct result of Conservative policies an ever increasing proportion of the goods sold are not being made in this country.

Because of this failure to produce wealth we will soon not be able to afford imports, but by then our own industries will be dead.

Once again we have been given a very clear sight of who decides the future of this country.

Our rulers do not reside in the House of Commons, they inhabit the oak panelled rooms of the City of London and Wall Street, New York.

UNEMPLOYMENT SOARS

ALL THE recent juggling of statistics by the Government cannot hide yet another leap in the number of jobless in Britain.

The latest July figure reveals a staggering increase of 119,376 and this ignores a further 211,125 school leavers who are not entitled to receive benefit until September.

This year over half of Britain's school leavers have gone straight from the classroom to the dole queue.

Unemployment (seasonally adjusted) has now increased for 44 successive months and according to the Department of Employment there is no sign of any change in this pattern.

On 4th August, the day the figures were released, Mr. Norman Tebbitt, Employment Secretary, was "not available for comment".

3,231,720 jobless Britons want to know why.

TRIUMPH motorcycles, once the most famous in the world, have finally come to the end of the line.

They have been killed off by a lack of investment and the unrestricted flow of Japanese imports.

Britain imports thousands of motorcycles each year which should and could be made in this country by British workers.

Conservative, Labour and Liberal/SDP politicians all refuse to rebuild this industry.

Only the National Frontwould stop imports and set up a new British motorcycle industry.

Motors, Exxon, IBM, etc. – and the heads of the world's largest banking firms – the Rothschilds, the Schiffs, the Morgans and the Rockefellers.

Whether or not these individuals see themselves as leaders of a 'World Government' is conjecture, but it is certainly true that they see themselves as leaders of a World economic order.

To such an end the existence of national boundaries and racial identities are a serious obstacle.

The ideal of any multinational company is to have a global monopoly in its products. Firms as diverse as Boeing, Coca-Cola, IBM all seek this end.

How much simpler it would be if everyone was persuaded to have the same 'wants' the whole world over. Factories could then serve whole continents.

WORLD ENSLAVEMENT

The ideal of any international banking firm is to be able to switch funds around the world to maximise profits without worrying about national considerations or the problems of consequent unemployment or social upheaval.

This is the "World Economic Order' they seek to create. It is this World Enslavement that the National Front opposes. We believe individuals, nations and races have their own identity and should be allowed to have pride in their own achievements in producing what they need.

Because of this failure to produce wealth we will soon not be able to afford imports, but by then our own industries will be dead.

BANKERS' SNOUTS AND HOOFS IN USURY TROUGH

WHILE British industry continues to fall apart the banks have yet again recorded massive profits.

Barclays' half year profits rose by 11% to a staggering £262 million, while Midland profits rose by an incredible 43% to £136 million.

At a time of falling inflation, rates of interest charged by the banks would normally also fall – but in Britain this has only happened to a limited extent enabling the banks to make these huge profits.

Much of this comes from the lending of money to industry and it is the massive extraction of funds in interest payments which is one of the main factors causing the number of firms going bankrupt to reach record levels again this year.

This steady strangulation of British industry also enables international financial houses, some of which are owned by the banks, to buy for knock down prices companies which have been forced into near or actual bankruptcy through this continuous interest burden.

Because all of these finance houses are international they are then able to revive the firms, now run by the banks, by the injection of money borrowed at much cheaper rates abroad.

Great piles of gold held in vaults are the traditional assets of the bankers, but nowadays in addition to the gold they own multi-national companies, politicians and whole nations – and they plan to own the whole world through usury.

REPORTS ON ISRAELI GENOCIDE "ANTI-SEMITISM" HOWL JEWS

TOP Zionist-Jews want to ban yet another book that tells the truth about them – and they also want to prosecute a noted British author and World War 2 RAF fighter pilot under the Race Relations Act for daring to review it!

The book is *GOD CRIED, an account of Israel's 1982 murderous invasion of Lebanon by Tony Clifton – with photos by Catherine Leroy.

The reviewer is Roald Dahl whose article appeared in the August issue of The Literary Review.

The persecutors are Henry Morris and Dr. Jacob Gewirtz of the Defence Committee of the Board of Deputies of British Jews.

THE "OFFENCE"

After much consultation with leading Jewish lawyers, Morris and Gewirtz found to their dismay that Roald Dahl's review did not "directly" contravene the Race Relations Act and was "not actionable at law".

Even so, when Gewirtz learned that Time Out magazine had reprinted an edited version of the review he said that this had "aggravated the offence".

(It's about time that Zionists realised that publishing the truth about their evil activities is not an "offence" but a moral duty for which the truth-starved public is very grateful.)

What is it that Zionists so dislike about God Cried?

Tony Clifton's central thesis is this:

"The war in Lebanon had almost nothing to do with the Palestinians or the Lebanese . . .

"The destruction of half of Lebanon, the killing of 25,000 civilians and the deaths of at least 500 Israeli soldiers were the results of a diversionary action . . .

"Menachem Begin needed to divert the world's attention from the fact that he was taking over the occupied West Bank of the River Jordan and making it an integral part of Israel . . .

"What they wanted was to conduct the most violent war possible while themselves taking as few casualties and as much time as possible . . . by the time this book is published, the West Bank takeover will be irreversible."

During this "most violent war possible" the Israelis used three particularly nasty weapons – the cluster bomb, the phosphorous bomb and the penetration bomb.

The cluster bomb explodes 500 feet above ground and saturates an area the size of a football field with white hot pellets which go right through the body of a human.

HOSPITALS BOMBED

Those who are wounded die soon afterwards as the wounds are inoperable.

These three bombs can be used with pin-point accuracy thanks to modern computers. They were used to destroy 13 of the 17 hospitals in Beirut – one a mental hospital, others full of children.

They were sold to Israel by the United States on the strict understanding that they would only be used in the event of Israel being invaded by two enemy armies!

An ocean of truth is pressing against a dam of Jewish "persecution" propaganda. God Cried will help to breach it.

ANOTHER BABY MUGGED!

FOUR Black thugs threatened to strangle an eight week old baby in a Brixton street unless the 12 year old girl who was pushing his pram handed over her ring and any money she had.

The baby – Steven Summers – was grabbed by the throat and lifted from his pram. To the horror of his minder, Gina Martin, one of the muggers said:

"Give us your money or we'll break his neck and strangle him!"

Gina handed over her ring and all the cash she had – just 8p. Meanwhile baby Steven's six year old brother Scott rushed to his home 50 yards away to summon help.

After grabbing the money and the ring the muggers callously dropped the little Steven back in his pram from a height of four feet.

By the time help arrived the four teenage muggers had disappeared. Shortly after Steven was safe in the arms of his mother, Mrs. Barbara Summers.

This incident came barely a month after another White baby – eight months old Kelly-Marie Broughton – was slashed by two Black muggers in a Walworth street after they had terrorised her mother into parting with her cash and wedding rings.

METROPOLITAN Police Commissioner Sir Kenneth Newman has hit on a new wheeze to bring down crime figures: prosecute fewer people!

This was announced in a Special Order issued at the end of July. It indicated that a "higher standard of evidence" would be required to bring prosecutions in "less serious cases".

Chief Inspector Brian Plaxton, the Scotland Yard officer in charge of implementing the new policy declared:

"The new system is fair and compassionate. It will require every London police officer to be something of a sociologist."

Some observers fear that the new policy is nothing more than a formalisation of police practice which has been informally implemented ever since the race riots of 1981.

Numerous policemen – including officials of the Police Federation – have complained that the criminal activities of Blacks are often ignored for fear of "provoking major public order situations".

Disquiet has also been expressed at the problems faced by the police in securing convictions against Black defendants in cases heard by Black majority juries.

A 'discretionary' prosecution policy could do much to sooth troubled Police/Immigrant community relations.

Meanwhile Home Secretary Leon Brittan has announced the establishment of a department at Brunel University to provide the police with courses in "community and race relations".

Police officers will receive lectures in psychology and – of course – sociology.

The department was set up in response to a recommendation contained in a report from the Police Training Council. Its recommendation was, in turn, based on a proposal from Lord Scarman in his report on the Brixton riots.

Leon Brittan said of the new department: "It will have a key role to play in the development of police training in the vital area of community and race relations."

FEAR OF RACE RIOTS IN BRITAIN'S JAILS

A MASSIVE increase in the number of Black inmates in jail has led to a big increase in racial tensions between Black and White prisoners and between Blacks and prison staff.

The Home Office is so worried that major race riots could break out in Britain's over-crowded prisons that it issued in August a special set of 'guidelines' to prison officers.

Signed by Mr. Christopher Train, Director-General of the Home Office Prisons Department, the document states:

"In some establishments we have occasionally been faced with very tricky and difficult situations involving Black inmates."

Mr. Robert Kilroy-Silk, the Labour MP who is Chairman of the All Party Penal Affairs Group, put it more bluntly:

"The rising numbers of Blacks in prison created a potentially explosive situation. Reports of racial conflicts are growing and there is increasing severity and violence."

There are no official figures available for the number of Black people in jail. Unofficial sources estimate that Blacks account for "between six and ten per cent" of the total prison population of 43,326.

In London and the South-East, the areas which have the highest number of Black prisoners, more than 1,900 of the 12,742 inmates are estimated to be Blacks.

Perhaps this situation has contributed to Sir Kenneth Newman's thinking on Police prosecution policy.

"THE BEAST OF ISLINGTON"

RUDOLF Nugent – "The Beast of Islington" – was given six life sentences for four rapes and two attempted rapes, plus a further 25 years for arson and seven robbery offences, at the Old Bailey in July.

Judge Tudor Price told Nugent:

"Your record and your conduct make you a great danger to the public. The cruel and repeated nature of your attacks upon no fewer than six women require the maximum sentence the law allows."

Three of Nugent's rape attacks took place in the corridors of Essex Road station. He raped one mother in her home, and robbed another – also in her home – by threatening to kill her babies.

Before his appointment to the Bench last year Judge Tudor Price was the DPP's specialist in Race Relations Act prosecutions.

In this capacity he prosecuted NF News editor Martin Webster and Bulldog editor Joe Pearce for trying to alert the public to the dangers of life in a multi-racial society.

This incident came barely a month after another White baby – eight months old Kelly-Marie Broughton – was slashed by two Black muggers in a Walworth street after they had terrorised her mother into parting with her cash and wedding rings.

on a new wheeze to bring down crime figures: prosecute fewer people!

This was announced in a Special Order issued at the end of July. It indicated that a "higher standard of evidence" would be required to bring prosecutions in "less serious cases".

Chief Inspector Brian Plaxton, the Scotland Yard officer in charge of implementing the new policy declared:

"The new system is fair and compassionate. It will require every London police officer to be something of a sociologist."

Some observers fear that the new policy is nothing more than a for- ever since the race riots of 1981.

Numerous policemen – including officials of the Police Federation – have complained that the criminal activities of Blacks are often ignored for fear of "provoking major public order situations".

Disquiet has also been expressed at the problems faced by the police in securing convictions against Black defendants in cases heard by Black majority juries.

A 'discretionary' prosecution policy could do much to sooth troubled Police/Immigrant community relations.

Meanwhile Home Secretary Leon Brittan has announced the police with courses in "community and race relations".

Police officers will receive lectures in psychology and – of course – sociology.

The department was set up in response to a recommendation contained in a report from the Police Training Council. Its recommendation was, in turn, based on a proposal from Lord Scarman in his report on the Brixton riots.

Leon Brittan said of the new department: "It will have a key role to play in the development of police training in the vital area of community and race relations."

RUDOLF Nugent – "The Beast of Islington" – was given six life sentences for four rapes and two attempted rapes, plus a further 25 years for arson and seven robbery offences, at the Old Bailey in July.

Judge Tudor Price told Nugent:

"Your record and your conduct make you a great danger to the public. The cruel and repeated nature of your attacks upon no fewer than six women require the maximum sentence the law allows."

Three of Nugent's rape attacks took place in the corridors of Essex Road station. He raped one mother in her home, and robbed another – also in her home – by threatening to kill her babies.

Before his appointment to the Bench last year Judge Tudor Price was the DPP's specialist in Race Relations Act prosecutions.

In this capacity he prosecuted NF News editor Martin Webster and Bulldog editor Joe Pearce for trying to alert the public to the dangers of life in a multi-racial society.

FEAR OF RACE RIOTS IN BRITAIN'S JAILS

A MASSIVE increase in the number of Black inmates in jail has led to a big increase in racial tensions between Black and White prisoners and between Blacks and prison staff.

The Home Office is so worried that major race riots could break out in Britain's over-crowded prisons that it issued in August a special set of 'guidelines' to prison officers.

Signed by Mr. Christopher Train, Director-General of the Home Office Prisons Department, the document states:

"In some establishments we have occasionally been faced with very tricky and difficult situations involving Black inmates."

Mr. Robert Kilroy-Silk, the Labour MP who is Chairman of the All Party Penal Affairs Group, put it more bluntly:

"The rising numbers of Blacks in prison created a potentially explosive situation. Reports of racial conflicts are growing and there is increasing severity and violence."

There are no official figures available for the number of Black people in jail. Unofficial sources estimate that Blacks account for "between six and ten per cent" of the total prison population of 43,326.

In London and the South-East, the areas which have the highest number of Black prisoners, more than 1,900 of the 12,742 inmates are estimated to be Blacks.

'RESTRICT DOCTORS' CALL

TOUGH new controls to restrict the number of alien doctors working in Britain were urged by the British Medical Association at its annual conference at Dundee in June.

A resolution calling on the government to return home all overseas doctors once they have completed their basic training was given overwhelming support by the 600 delegates. 30% of NHS hospital doctors are aliens.

MOTORWAYS

A SAGA OF CORRUPTION AND INCOMPETENCE

The whole of one side of large sections of Britain's motorway network being rebuilt is a common sight. The motorways were designed to last for only 20 years (why?) – but have crumbled after five years.

MILLIONS of families had their journeys to and from holiday locations turned into nightmares as scores of miles of motorways were out of service or turned into chaotic and dangerous 'contraflow' systems by no less than 44 separate repair operations.

Why this shambles?

Local council engineers blame the Ministry of Transport for underestimating the volume and weight of traffic likely to use the motorways when the system was first designed.

It seems that the motorways were designed to last 20 years, but many have achieved that 'lifespan' within five years.

The real answer is that Britain's motorway system was designed by little men with no vision and built by greedy men who could only see quick profits.

The Roman road system built 1,900 years ago remained the basis of Britain's road system until a century ago. Pre-war Germany built autobahns which are still serviceable to this day.

Britain's corrupt and decaying political and economic establishment has built a road system which reflects its spirit: a crumbling surface on rotten foundations.

Party surprise!

A FOUR-day 'Blues' party in Ladywood, Birmingham, attended by more than 100 West Indians came to a 'dead' halt in the early hours of 1st August.

After local White residents' complaints about the din had been ignored by the Police, a distraught White man pumped several pistol shots through the window of the Blacks' house, killing one reveller and wounding another. The rest fled!

Albert Mariner

N.F. DEMO PROMPTS YARD INVESTIGATION

ABOUT 500 National Front members and other supporters of the Albert Mariner Public Inquiry Campaign (AMPIC) joined in a march on Saturday 30th July to protest at the cover-up over the Black riot in Tottenham of 3rd May.

Although marches were banned across the whole of North London and a High Court injunction prevented a meeting in Haringey, a march went ahead through central London.

Earlier in the afternoon George Wilson, BEM, Mrs. Peggy Caine, Martin Webster and John Donegan, Committee members of AMPIC, laid a wreath at the spot where Albert Mariner was struck on the head by a missile during the riot outside an NF public election meeting.

They then joined the rest of the marchers at Victoria for a protest march through central London.

At the end of the march a rally was held in Cavendish Square which was addressed by Andrew Brons, NF Chairman; Martin Webster, NF National Activities Organiser; as well as George Wilson, Mrs. Caine and John Donegan, all representing AMPIC.

As a result of the continuous pressure which has been kept up by AMPIC by means of this demonstration, letters to MPs and others, and articles in NF papers, the Attorney General has forwarded a report on the riot to the Director of Public Prosecutions.

On Wednesday 17th August Martin Webster was asked to attend a meeting at Scotland Yard during which Deputy-Assistant Commissioner Sewell announced a Police investigation into the cause of the riot.

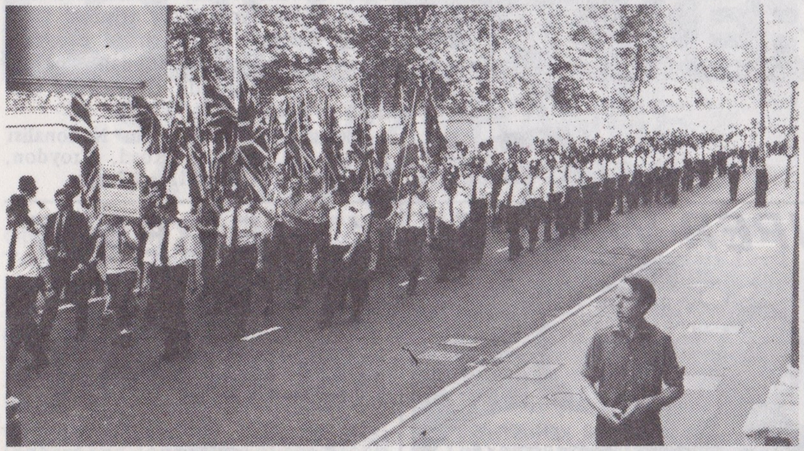
He also revealed that the Police had secured a copy of one of the illegal leaflets which assembled the mob outside the NF meeting hall.

The Police have asked for copies of all photographs taken that day by Michael Hipperson, an NF News photographer who was present while the mob was rioting.

The Police now accept that Mr. Mariner was injured during the riot, but assert that the injury did not prompt his fatal heart attack.

George Wilson, BEM, carries the wreath to the spot where Albert Mariner was struck on the head which resulted in his death.

Martin Webster addresses the rally at the end of the march through central London. With him are NF Chairman Andrew Brons and members of the Committee of AMPIC.



N.F. CAMPAIGN STOPS LONDON SINN FEIN RALLY

A MEETING planned by Sinn Fein to be held in Peckham, South London on Friday 22nd July was cancelled because Southwark councillors feared opposition from National Front members.

Southwark Amenities Chairman, John Wentworth, stated:

"I feel that if the meeting went ahead there would be a lot of trouble because of the high level of National Front activity in the area."

The meeting was to have been addressed by Gerry Adams, who has been a member of the "High Command" of the IRA, and Joe Austin of North Belfast Sinn Fein, as part of their tour of England at the invitation of GLC Chief, Ken Livingstone.

As a result of this cancellation Adams was forced to speak at a meeting arranged at the last minute in the 'Marxist Republic of Islington' where the hall was guarded by legions of police thus dissuading ordinary members of the public from attending.

Series of NF meetings in Scotland

AS PART of the recruitment drive carried out by the National Front after the General Election a series of three meetings was held in Scotland over the weekend 12th-14th August.

Ian Anderson, NF Deputy Chairman, and Martin Webster, NF National Activities Organiser, first went to Glasgow where a meeting was held on the Friday night.

Several of those who attended joined up as members at the end of the meeting and a committee was formed to co-ordinate future activities in Glasgow.

Next stop was Aberdeen where a

COURT GIVES TYNDALL AND PARKER SEVEN DAYS TO HAND BACK NF FUNDS

JOHN TYNDALL, representing his mother-in-law Mrs. Violet Parker, was ordered by Brighton County Court on Tuesday 16th August to pay back funds belonging to Brighton Branch of the National Front.

The funds had been taken in June 1980 when the Brighton Treasurer, Mrs. Violet Parker, had paid an alleged "bill for rent" for the use of their house by the NF to her husband, Mr. Charles Parker.

The set of four hearings, which were attended by Ian Anderson representing the NF National Directorate, took place over the period March to August.

It was only at the very last hearing, following a Court Order, that a vital piece of evidence – Brighton Branch Minutes book – was produced by Mrs. Parker. This showed the claim for rent was bogus.

Besides his continual injections of totally irrelevant evidence – ("I am the author of this Constitution so only I can interpret it") John Tyndall also produced an affidavit from a former NF member now living in Australia which had been substantially altered after it had been signed and sworn.

JOHN TYNDALL Cheerfully writing a cheque

Dismissing the affidavit as evidence, the Registrar observed acidly: "Mr. Tyndall, the person who altered the affidavit certainly knew what he was doing!"

At the end of the hearing the Court ordered Mrs. Violet Parker to pay into Court the sum of £447.85 which consists of £154.85 in funds belonging to Brighton National Front, £89.00 in costs incurred by the National Front and £204.00 in repayment of a loan.

This is just the latest in a series of actions, some of which were concluded in Court, resulting in the restoration of funds belonging to the National Front filched by splinter groups. These include Greenwich, Hackney, Reading, Worthing and Doncaster.

Cases pending include Enfield, Medway, Islington, Watford, Leeds and Plymouth.

SOUTHWARK COURT COSTS

SOUTHWARK ratepayers have been landed with a bill of £7,693 in legal fees as a result of two Labour Councillors ignoring a judge's instructions to hire a hall to the National Front candidate during the Peckham Parliamentary by-election.

Martin Webster, the NF candidate, was forced to return to the High Court after these Councillors refused to abide by the judge's decision, in order to secure his right to a hall.

The two Councillors have been asked to pay just £12 each towards this bill.

IT'S HARD TO HIDE AMONG 85 PEOPLE!

JOHN TYNDALL, the 'Leader' of the British National Party splinter group was, with the support of some British Movement members, able to muster exactly 85 people for his national march and rally in London on 13th August.

So ashamed was the 'Leader' that he attempted to hide himself with Charles Parker, his father-in-law, and other members of the 'Royal Family' in the middle of the march rather than take responsibility for the flop by marching at the head of the sorry column.

- A national march in Ilford organised by the British Movement on Sunday 21st August attracted 35 people.
